PECK AND KELLY TO MARQUETTE

WELLS AND BARBER TO IONIA REFORMATORY

So many individuals had to face Judge Guy E. Smith at the close of Court Friday morning that it was necessary that they be brought into the court room in groups.

Those charged with violation of the liquor law were the first to come up for sentence, and Judge Smith began distributing fines quite liberally. Henry Ross drew a fine of $25.00 and $100.00 costs. The same penalty was applied to Wesley Canfield, Albert Moon and Ben Joslin. The alternative was 60 days in the county jail, however all paid their fines and costs.

Edward Headstead was let off on his own recognizance to appear at the next term of court. Louis McCormick was fined $50.00 and $10.00 costs. Edward Edwards, a man about 70, was sentenced to serve five days in jail. Sentence in the case of Tom Nowlin was postponed to the next term of court.

Roy Wells, who was standing before the court guilty of the second offense for violation of the prohibition law, was sentenced to the State reformatory at Ionia for from six months to one year, with recommendation of six months.

Earl Barber, a young man of 27 years was convicted of threat to murder, and was sentenced to Ionia reformatory for from six months to two years, with recommendation of six months.

Theodore Fitzpatrick and Charles Tiffin were found guilty by a jury of driving away an automobile.

While there had been no harm done to the car, also that the offense was not such a serious one, Judge Smith unmercifully scored the two young men for having perjured their testimony while on the witness stand. It was only because of their youth and from sending them to prison. Both Fitzpatrick and Tiffin were placed under probation for a period of two years, during which time they must report to Melvin A. Bates, probation officer, monthly, and at each time pay him the sum of $1.00. Besides they were to pay court costs of $25.00 and to pay the court upon the first day of each term.

In the case of Isa Smith vs. Herbert J. Smith for divorce, a decree was granted with alimony covering costs and indebtedness of the respondent. Mrs. Smith was also granted permission to resume her maiden name—Isa M. Granger.

Peck and Kelly to Marquette.

Four Kellys and Wm. Peck, each charged with assault with intent to commit the crime of murder, had had a fair trial and each had been found guilty by a jury. About the 7th of October west of Frederic the two men entered the home of Richard Sherman some time late in the night on a pretext that Peck wanted Sherman to work for him. Kelly is reported to have had a bottle of liquor and he and Peck, said Mr. Sherman, on the witness stand, imbibed freely until an argument started whereupon Peck and Kelly are reported to have struck Sherman over the head with an axe. Sherman lay unconscious upon the floor and it is believed the men thought he was dead. The jury only required about 15 minutes to convict Kelly and not much longer to find Peck guilty as charged.

Peck is 52 years old and resided at Frederic with his wife and Kelly claimed to be a farmer living near Torch Lake. Kelly was sentenced to from five to ten years at the State prison at Marquette, with the recommendation of five years. Peck was sentenced to from six to twelve years at the same place, where both are now paying the penalty for their crime against society.

This ended the October term of court, except for the clerk to make his final entries, and was the biggest term, we believe this county has ever been called upon to try.

It cannot be improper at this time to compliment our officers, especially Sheriff Bohemeyer, and Prosecuting Attorney Merle F. Nellist. They had done their work so well that there was not a single acquittal nor nolle prossed case presented except that of Conrad Sorenson, the complaining witnesses of which case could not be found. It is a splendid record and one to be proud of by the sheriff, his assistants and the Prosecutors. We are pleased to extend sincere congratulations.

That the rounding up of lawbreakers isn't a parlor job, we will briefly relate the story of the capture of Tom Kelly. His partner, Peck, had given himself up to the officers when he found that the nights were too cold for comfort lying around in a damp swamp. Kelly was still at large and word came finally from the sheriff of Grand Traverse county, that he was there. Sheriff Bohemeyer accompanied by Deputy Phil Quigley drove to Elk Rapids where they expected to find Kelly in jail, but was told that Kelly was at his home near Torch Lake. The Elk Rapids officers stated that Kelly had a hard reputation and that they did not care to take a chance with him. Finally a very little night watchman set out for Kelly's home at the early hours of the morning. Distributing themselves about the house, Sheriff Bohemeyer went to the door and it was locked. He then rapped upon the panel and Kelly from within asked, "who's there?" Bohemeyer replied, "Bill Peck let me in" and Kelly said, "alright" and when the door was opened he was looking down the barrel of a five shooter. Jess says he quite surprised his man, and resulted in taking him to Grayling, and now has him in Marquette prison.

He also relates a little experience he had with Peck when the latter sent word to him that he would be waiting for him, "you big powerful man, weighing about 200 pounds. Jess said that he accepted the invitation and one morning slipped into Peck's house and hid in the kitchen. Soon the law came to the kitchen and was told that "I'm here." Peck was arrested at that time, the officers finding him with a still.

If anyone thinks that they can scare our sheriff, he has got another think coming. It can't be done.

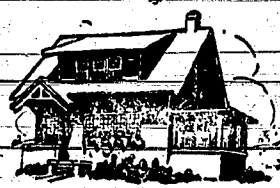

WORLD FAMOUS MAGICIAN TO VISIT GRAYLING

In a city in Kansas recently Renowned magician who will appear here at the School house on the Lyceum course Thursday evening, October 29, performed the electric light globe trick a number of times. In fact he performed it every night for a week's engagement.

In this trick a handkerchief is borrowed from a lady and put into a pistol, which in turn is fired at an electric light globe. The audience sees the handkerchief in the globe, and the globe is then broken and the handkerchief returned. The pleasant feature of the trick is that while the globe may be broken from the footlights or some other position where it can be seen plainly, still the globe is not damaged in the least.

Reno was surprised at the close of the entertainment to receive a bill for six broken globes. He took the whole matter in a pleasant spirit and paid the bill rather than enlighten the mind of the manager who truly was sincere and believed that Reno actually did the impossible.

Reno's performance will be given in the High School auditorium. Single admission tickets are on sale at 25 and 50 cents. Season adult tickets or this and two remaining numbers of the course can be secured for $5.00. Reserve seats are on sale at the Central Drug store at an additional 10 cents each. Get your ticket and reserve your seat early for you can't afford to miss this unusual attraction.

Grayling School Notes

School has started full force, all hands on deck, all flags flying. All are present from the dignified Seniors filled with calm concern to the freshmen those brightly clad plebs who rush around, aggravating all those present.

We were rather disappointed with the football game last Friday, when Harbor Springs competed with our huskies. The score was one-sided but we hope to play our last and best home game with Mancelona, Friday, that is if the weather permits.

The Juniors and Seniors have organized for the coming year. The class advisors and officers are:

For the Seniors:
Advisor—Miss Harris.
President—Russell Robertson.
Secy and Treas.—Ruby Stephan.

For the Juniors:
Advisor—Miss Flaignin.
President—Helen Schumann.
Vice president—George Schroeder.

Opinions
"Them new teachers ain't bad at all!" Says one little chap who knows it all. The second one says, "Well I don't know, but I guess they're not so 'slow'."

Then up speaks little Mary Ann, (her bravery would astonish most any man). "My teacher's best that's all I know."

Then Shorly says, kinder drawly and slow, "Youse can think what yer mind about the swimmin'."

But my thoughts goes more toward swimmin'.

Still I think yer wop't think me no more leaser.

Fer sayin' I like the 'perfesser'."

A cat may have nine lives, but it's just as wonderful that a frog croaks every minute.

The mathematics students are looking for the man who named Geometry "Plane" (plain).

A fond mother: "Well Johnny how do you like your new teacher?"

Johnny: "Not much; she doesn't know anything. Today she asked me who discovered America?"

The entire population of the High school would have streamed to Court Tuesday, if it hadn't been for the negative results obtained from Miss Harris.

How do you make double single lines? Ask Miss Rotherberger.

Cleanliness is next to Godliness, is an old saying, but it seems during centuries it cannot be. Any one seeing the assembly room will believe it. "Come on, kids, let's make it the cleanest room of any school."

The geometry students have formed an "I can't society" directed by Miss Harrod.

Second Grade
David Fairbrother and Vivian Dawson are back in school, after being out several days.

Third Grade
Mrs. Burnham has been ill this week.

First Grade
We have 38 pupils enrolled this year. Leona Sullivan is absent from school.

Fourth A and Fifth B
We have 29 enrolled in the 4th A and 5th B in our room this term.

The fourth grade have completed the study of the plateau states in geography, maps having been drawn showing states. Each state with its special product.

The 5th B just completed a very interesting study of rubber. Each made booklets and wrote the story of rubber, pictures and samples illustrating story.

The 5th B language class is keeping observation notes. We think nature very interesting this time of the year.

Clifford Malloy has been absent about a week. We are all wishing that he gets well soon, and comes back to us.

Joseph Stareinich left last week for Dearborn. We hope he likes his new school.

Prospects of Michigan National Guard having at least one and possibly two air units are growing brighter.

Adjutant General John S. Bersey, last week Friday reported to Governor Groesbeck, stating that some encouraging word has been received from the war department relative to the financing of the organization.

"If the present air controversy does anything at all for aviation, it is going to mean more funds for the army, and when more funds are available Michigan will probably be the first state in the union to have its guard supplied with air equipment," said Bersey, basing his statement on his confidential information from Washington.

"Michigan has the jump on other states because we have long been looking forward to the air units, and we already have the personnel signed up," said Bersey. "I could supply qualified pilots for two units within 24 hours after the war department has authorized us to go ahead with their organization. I have applications on file from every important city in the state, and practically all of these applications are from men who had flying experience in the war and have continued it since."

Col. Bersey said that unless other means could be found, it would be useless for the state to go ahead with the organization of the units now without federal aid as the cost would be more than half the entire appropriation for the guard.

J. Groesbeck took the lead about two weeks ago to secure air units for the guard, when he instructed Bersey to supply him with all the facts necessary to the organization of the units. He has indicated that he intends to interest the Michigan Congressional delegation in the movement and urge early action.

Autumn
Autumn leaves are falling. On the ground so low. Waiting for the snow to come, And the winds to blow.

Yes, indeed it's autumn. The birds are flying south. They expect to take possession Of their homes down south.

In geography we have studied the climate, topography and products of Washington, Oregon and California. We made relief maps of the three states and one large product map. We are now studying the North Atlantic coast region.

We are most anxiously awaiting October 31st, because our class and Miss Thayer's room are going to have a Halloween party.

Halloween
By Doris Wilcox & A Grade. This is the month of Halloween. The time when witches and cats are seen.

The witches on their brooms so high Are sweeping cobwebs from the sky. Around the house the ghosts even While the little children sleep.

RENO, THE MAGICIAN
Edward Reno has been a magician for more than thirty years. He has traveled in every corner of the globe and is constantly inventing new things in magic and illusion with which to mystify and entertain the public.

During the hour and a half that Reno has the platform he executes sixty or more tricks, two or three times as many as are shown by the ordinary magician.

Reno's running fire of comment as he puts over his tricks is about as amusing as the tricks themselves. He goes out into the aisles and comes into close touch with those attending the performance. In fact, the audience takes part in many of his tricks. Reno uses a number of pets in his entertainments, and he allows the children to play with these pets between times. There is always a rush of boys and girls to the stage when he makes an appeal for assistants.

Among the many bewildering tricks performed by Reno is one in which he takes a lad's watch from a lost of bread when it is supposed to be locked securely in a wooden box. Again he lights a candle, wraps it in heavy paper and later takes it from his inside coat pocket, still burning. He shows the children how to make two doves out of one. He breaks an egg in a pan, lights it and underneath it and then pulls out a duck. Everything Reno does is done with an exceedingly clever pair of hands.

WANTS TRUNK LINE M-14 PAVED

SECY OF ASSOCIATION TALKS TO GRAYLING BUSINESS MEN

H. B. Johnson, of Clare, secretary of M-14 association, gave an interesting address to a group of our business men at a dinner Wednesday noon at Shoppenagon inn, telling how that organization happened to be formed; and of some of the reasons why trunk line highway M-14 should be paved.

T. W. Hanson, who with Melvin A. Bates is a director of the Association for Crawford county, presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker.

Mr. Johnson began his talk by saying that Grayling's reputation for co-operation and pulling together on the part of our citizens is quite well known throughout the state, and said many pleasant things about our city. Mr. Johnson is a congregational minister, a very pleasant gentleman, and a splendid gentleman to know. He is a convincing speaker and in a pleasing manner told how it happened that the M-14 association was formed.

He told of the great consternation and alarm of the people of Clare and Harrison when it was learned that a new trunk line had been established, cutting out Clare and Harrison and other important cities, much to the detriment of these places, and also the possibility of losing the paving of this highway. Furthermore they could not hope that this highway would be so well maintained as would be otherwise.

A conference was had by the business men of Clare and Harrison with a view of heading off the new proposed route, although the new plan had already been approved by the State and Federal departments. Soon after the citizens of Mt. Pleasant and Shepherd joined them in their efforts, which nearly every town thru which M-14 runs are united in working for a paved M-14 trunk line highway.

Running along the western side of Houghton and Higgins lakes, and the time when things looked darkest for the interests of the people along this line that Congressman Woodruff was the means of blocking the federal and state plans and swinging the interest back to the present routes as desired by the M-14 association. The speaker said that they were no longer alarmed over the question of paving M-14, for that matter was quite certainly settled, but he emphasized the necessity of continuing a sound and permanent organization in order that we may continue to hold the ground upon which we now stand in this matter.

By standing together there can be no doubt but that our desires are going to be fulfilled. He told of a meeting that is being held in Grand Rapids this week of a large number of M-13 representatives working for interest of getting that trunk line paved "first." That meeting is being attended by Gov. Groesbeck. He believed that by keeping up our organization that M-14 would be paved from the Ohio line to Muckinaw City within the next five years. He urged a permanent organization working everlastingly for its fulfillment.

The Association, he said, is now under but little expense—only the traveling expenses of the secretary—but never-the-less some funds were necessary in order to carry on the work of the Association, and he urged the citizens of this city to join the Association by the payment of $1.00 or any larger sum that they cared to pay, in order to have a fund for taking care of any emergency expense that may arise. Should there be any money left in the fund after the Association has completed its initial service it should be used in a wise manner for advertising purposes, advertising the communities thru which M-14 traverses, and for adequate farming lands and beautiful cities in the southern part of Michigan, and the picturesque and delightful region surrounding the western sides of the wonderful Houghton and Higgins lakes, and river regions of the north.

Mr. Johnson was enthusiastic in claiming that M-14, traveling as it does thru the most fertile and finest farming lands and beautiful cities in the southern part of Michigan, and the picturesque and delightful region surrounding the western sides of the wonderful Houghton and Higgins lakes, and river regions of the north.

formed the setting of the finest route to be formed anywhere in Michigan.

One long table had been set aside for this meeting at the Inn and every place was crowded and a few had to set at other tables. As usual the dinner was very fine; and everyone there took out a membership in the Association, and a nice start was made for a local organization for Crawford county. A committee will soon be appointed to wait upon our people throughout the county with the view of getting every adult person enrolled in this splendid campaign, working for the accomplishment of this big and important task.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Vallad were host and hostess this noon to the members of the County Board of Supervisors, the county officers and a few lucky friends, at the county infirmary, of which Mr. Vallad is the superintendent. Platters bountifully laden with delicious chicken and turkey, fish, salads and vegetables and plates of fine pumpkin pie were upon the table and twenty guests enjoyed a real dinner, and did justice to the fine cooking. It was a social gathering of an hour that also was greatly enjoyed and made for real fellowship. It also afforded an opportunity to visit the place and now clean and neat everything about the place is. Mr. Vallad has been a very popular superintendent with the unfortunate who have to be cared for, and also has met with good favor with the officials who placed him in charge.

H. S. STUDENT PASSES AWAY

John Richard Brady, age 17, Grayling High School Senior and popular in school athletic circles passed away at the University hospital in Ann Arbor, Tuesday after a six weeks illness. His case was such that, after local physicians had done every thing in their power to save the youth's life, his parents took him to Ann Arbor where after a series of examinations and X-rays it was found there was no help for him.

"Jack" as he was called by his friends had just entered upon his senior year and now the class of '26 that boasted of 25 members are grieving the loss of one of their class mates and friend. The young man was a member of the High school basketball and foot-ball teams, and a student of high rank. He was the oldest child of Mr. and Mrs. John Brady and was born in Frederic, April 20 1908. Besides his parents he is survived by four brothers and four sisters, Francis, Joseph, Jerome, Richard, Anne, Helen, Jean and Marion, all of whom have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral of the young man will be held tomorrow (Friday) morning with services at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock.

WHEN IGNORANCE IS DANGEROUS

We read some place the other day the statement that, "The greatest autocrat is ignorance," and, further, "when this ignorance is collective and becomes a universal prejudice it is all the more dangerous." There is no doubt as to the accuracy of these observations. But one might go a little further and point out that ignorance only becomes really dangerous when it is directed by depraved intelligence which utilizes such ignorance for its own purposes. It is the intelligent leader of the mob who is dangerous, the man who feeds the ignorant with untruths or half-truths, who suggests reprisals and change, looking forward himself to the time when ignorance becomes uncontrolled and he will step in to reap the fruit of the disaster that follows. There are men in this country today who are fomenting trouble by playing on the feelings of the uninformed. The cure is the development of a higher national intelligence, but more particularly the offsetting of the vicious propaganda which is being spread to convert ignorance into despair.

HELP THE SALVAGE SHOP

Where is it?
What is it?
What is it for?
Why it's the Salvage Shop, at the Red Cross Health center, of course—where they collect old clothing, shoes, etc. It is on M-14 next door to the Electric Light office. They take everything there—and supply the folks who need and do not have money to buy new. They are going to make over clothes for folks and teach folks to make over clothes too, as soon as they get things running as they want them.

They need children's underwear and coats and warm things now. They can use everything—even bedding. Bring your old sheets and old linen for rags. Many old soft clothes can be used by the nurse for many folks.

We are soon to have a Junior Red Cross workers' club in connection with the Health center and Salvage shop. We are earning our own things. We believe in being self-supporting and learning how to make things over.

Please don't throw anything away. Give it to the Health center-salvage shop.

Miners' Head Says U. S. Faces Big Coal Shortage

Atlantic City, N. J.—Support by the American Federation of Labor of the 158,000 striking miners in the anthracite field was accorded after President John W. Lewis of the United Mine Workers had addressed the delegates and stirred them to enthusiasm by his recital of conditions in the industry.

Mr. Lewis said the miners would not wait or depart from the policy laid down, and he warned the public that it was due to a "rude awakening" if it believed there was an ample supply of coal on hand.

"Hundreds of thousands of homes will be without fuel and will be unable to secure fuel," he said, "until it can be produced at the mines and distributed."

GREEN RE-ELECTED HEAD OF A. F. OF L.

Labor Body Opposed to Recognition of Russian Soviet by United States.

Atlantic City, N. J.—The American Federation of Labor re-elected President William Green and his associate officers by acclamation, chose Detroit as next year's convention city; declared against formation of an independent labor party and opposed recognition of the Russian Soviet by the United States.

Many other resolutions also were adopted.

Mr. Green's re-election was fore-shadowed. He was elected president in New York last winter by the executive council after the death of Samuel Gompers. Previously he had been secretary-treasurer of the United Mine Workers of America. During the year he was instrumental in settling three vexatious interunion disputes after others had failed, and he acquired a reputation as a peacemaker.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, made the nominating speech. He brought the delegates to their feet cheering when he recounted that Mr. Green was the son of a coal miner; "had labored in the dungeons and learned the language of those who toil," and had risen to a position where he was "a great American, great and wise in council, and great in battle."

The resolution proposing support of a movement to bring about a world conference of trade unions was defeated unanimously.

45,000 Baseball Fans See Pittsburgh Win Flag

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Pittsburgh was crowned a new state's champion after the maddest, wildest, and most pathetic battle in the history of America's pastime.

With 45,000 fanatics screaming in delirious joy, then roaring in partisan rage when the Senators forged ahead, the old and crippled Walter Johnson fell before the youth and speed of the Pirates by a score of 9 to 7.

With sweat in their brows, with the same seemingly saved Johnson's strength at last failed. Before the wildly joyous Pirates could be stopped they had scored three times, and for the first time in the feverish battle were leading. Albridge and Krenner were the winning pitchers.

Safety matches were first brought out in 1844.

SENATOR RALSTON DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Lawmaker Succumbs on His Farm, "Hoosier Home," Near Indianapolis.

Indianapolis—Samuel M. Ralston, United States senator from Indiana, died at his country home just north of this city.

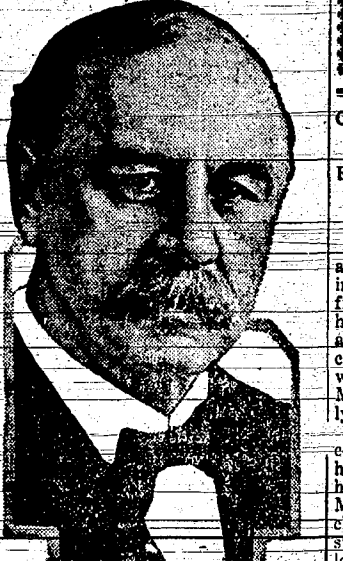

Senator Ralston's death was preceded by a long illness, caused by a kidney disorder. He returned from Washington last March in poor health. On September 8 his condition became aggravated and he was ordered to bed. He would have been sixty-eight years old December 1.

Death came to the statesman at the place he loved best, "Hoosier Home," located just outside the city limits of Indianapolis.

"God is good and I am His child," So wrote Senator Ralston to a friend shortly before his death.

It is said he refused to accept the Presidential nomination at the last Democratic convention because he had a premonition he would not serve out the term at the White House.

Panama Landlords Cut Rents to Pacify Rioters

Bathona, Panama City, Panama, in an agreement with President Huelstos Chazari, promised to reduce the rent ten per cent for the cheaper dwellings and not to increase the rents of any type of house. The agreement is to be effective for a year.

This action, taken as a result of the riots by workers against high rents, is expected to end the disorders which resulted in the deaths of several persons and wounding of many others, as well as the calling in of about 600 United States troops from Fort Clayton to restore order in Panama.

The landlords' offer of a rent reduction, which was better than has been demanded, was accepted by many of the tenants.

Meanwhile, Panama is calm under the watchful eyes of the American soldiers, although business has not been completely restored to normal.

Charles F. Papendick was born December 17, 1859 in Kalamazoo, where his boyhood was spent. A COVINGTON, KY., WOMAN

Makes Remarkable Recovery

Mrs. Harry Ashcroft, Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Her of Severe Illness and Pain

MRS. HARRY ASHCROFT, 632 Beech Avenue, Covington, Ky. — "I was so weak and nervous I could hardly do my housework as I could not stand because of the bearing-down pains in my back and abdomen. I sat down most of the time and did what I could do in that way—washing dishes, etc. One day a book describing Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine was put in my mail box. I saw how the Vegetable Compound had helped others so I gave it a trial. I had to take about a dozen bottles before I gained my strength, but I certainly praise this medicine. Then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine for poor blood. I was cold all the time. I could not get warm. My hands were cold and in the palms of my hands there would be drops of sweat. I also used the Sanative Wash and I recommend it also. You may publish this letter and I will gladly answer any letters from women and advise my neighbors about these medicines." — Mrs. HARRY ASHCROFT, 632 Beech Avenue, Covington, Kentucky.

Mrs. Boyer Also Found Help
Gilman City, Missouri. — "I was in such a condition that I could not eat nor sleep to do me any good and I felt draggily all the time. My head ached, my right side and back would almost kill me at times, and I could be on my feet only a short while at a time. I was irregular and so nervous, irritable and despondent that I thought I could not stand the strain much longer. I had been this way more or less for ten years, but the last two years was just terrible. I took medicines, but got little relief until I began to take the Vegetable Compound. I took three bottles before I could see any change at all. I have taken ever since and am improving right along. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and take the Liver Pills. I can do most of my work now and I live on a farm and there is lots of it to do. I wash, iron, hoe the garden, raise chickens and tend to the milk." — Mrs. T. M. BOYER, Gilman City, Missouri.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Allied and German Foreign Ministers Agree at Last on the Security Pact.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

SECURITY for western Europe appears to have been achieved by the agreement reached last week by the conference of allied and German foreign ministers and other statesmen at Locarno, Switzerland. Great tact and a spirit of conciliation were displayed by all concerned and obstacles that for a time seemed insurmountable were climbed over or removed. The most serious of these were the demands of Poland, but Poland's political and financial position is exceedingly shaky, and so she was brought into line by pressure from those on whom she depends. Germany was most insistent on a provision exempting her from application of article 16 of the covenant upon her joining the League of Nations, but was persuaded to accept a "conditional agreement" by which the allies promised to use their joint efforts to obtain for her this exemption and also to provide eventually for colonial matters.

It was agreed that the Polish and Czech administration treaties with Germany should be guaranteed by the league. France undertakes to look after the interests of her eastern allies. If those allies get into a quarrel with Germany, France is to have the right to send troops through German territory to their aid, only if the league cannot unanimously decide Germany at fault.

France gains in the agreement a guarantee of her eastern frontier with assurance of safety from attack from the east; and this presumably will make it possible for her to decrease the armed forces and so reduce substantially her military budget. Great Britain and Italy guarantee that the Rhine frontier shall not be disturbed.

Germany is to be readmitted to the concert of European powers on an equal footing. The change now to be evaluated, conditions in the Rhineland are to be ameliorated and the status of the Saar region is to be considered; rehabilitation of Germany's commercial aviation industry is to be permitted; and there will be no further fear of sanctions for her failure to fulfill the Versailles treaty.

After the ratification of the agreement had been approved by President Von Hindenburg and the German cabinet, Premier Mussolini, who is also foreign minister of Italy, went to Locarno to sign for his country as guarantor with Great Britain of the security pact.

Only the drawing up of the four ratification treaties remained to be done, and it was planned to have all the documents ready for signing by Saturday night. Too much credit cannot be given the statesmen who have brought about these pacts, and when the treaties go into effect the entire civilized world will breathe a sigh of relief.

Loot So Large, Thieves Found No Sale for It

Philadelphia.—A tale of an alleged secret rendezvous in the Russian quarter in New York city, where gems and negotiable securities of fabulous amounts were piled high on tables and a coterie of men (including a lawyer and a bank examiner) who had possessed them, but were afraid to place them on the open market for sale, was unfolded before a jury in the Federal District court.

country's failure to reach a final agreement on debt funding. M. Caillaux is in the midst of a hard fight to sustain not only the temporary debt arrangement made in Washington, but his entire financial policy.

Czechoslovakia's debt mission, headed by Dr. Vilem Fostisl, successfully concluded its business with the American foreign debt commission last week and an agreement was signed for the funding of the Czech obligation to the United States of $115,000,000.

TAKING advantage of general dissatisfaction with the high rents imposed on poor householders in Panama City, the Reds there promoted a series of bloody riots which the local police were unable to stop. Therefore President Chari called on the United States for help and three battalions of the Thirty-third Infantry from Fort Clayton, in the Canal Zone, entered the city and took command of the situation. About the first thing the Yankees did was to raid the Bolshevik headquarters. One of the Reds was killed by a bullet from a window. Quil was restored in a day or so and business was resumed, but the clubs and saloons were kept closed by the Americans. "Prints and signs of incendiary propaganda were arrested. The Panama government recognized that there was reason for complaint of high rents and President Chari persuaded the landlords to promise a reduction of 10 per cent for the cheaper dwellings. The American troops, which were commanded by Brig. Gen. C. L. Martin Jr., were announced would remain in the city until the landlords and tenants had reached a definite settlement.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE announced on Tuesday that he had accepted the resignation of Secretary of War John W. Weeks and at the same time he appointed Dwight F. Davis of Missouri to the cabinet position. Mr. Weeks has been incapacitated by illness since last spring and Mr. Davis, his assistant, had been acting secretary. He performed his duties well and dealt so satisfactorily with the crisis precipitated by Colonel Mitchell's aircraft crash that the President was convinced he was the best man to succeed Mr. Weeks. He is a young man, the youngest in the cabinet, and has no record in any official in St. Louis, as a local business man in the war in France and a member of the war finance corporation after the war ended. He is a leader of the Missouri Republicans and in 1923 nearly lost the late Senator Spencer for the nomination.

Col. Harford MacKer of Iowa, former national commander of the American Legion, was made assistant secretary of war. As a banker he is a capable business man and his selection is pleasing to former service men.

The passing of Mr. Weeks from public life, foreseen for months, was pathetic. He had been the trusted advisor of two Presidents, a strong man in his party and one of the best loved men in Washington throughout twenty years. He is only sixty-five years old but his health is broken and it is understood he will soon leave for the South.

UNITED STATES SENATOR

SAMUEL M. RAESTON of Indiana, who had been suffering for months from a disease of the kidneys, died Wednesday night at his home, just outside Indianapolis. He was almost sixty-eight years of age. Mr. Raeston was born on an Ohio farm, earned his living while acquiring an education and became a leading member of the bar and of the Democratic party in Indiana. In 1913 he was inaugurated governor of the state and in 1922 he defeated A. J. Beveridge for the United States senate. He was a prominent candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination in the national convention last year but, being already in ill health, he withdrew from the contest. The release of his votes started the break that resulted in the nomination of John W. Davis.

Another death that must be recorded is that of James B. Duke, the tobacco magnate and former president of the American Tobacco company, at his New York residence. It was only a few months ago that Mr. Duke gave $400,000 to educational institutions in the South, most of it to Trinity college in Durham, N. C., the name of which was changed to Duke university in memory of the donor's father.

PROTESTANT Episcopalians in their triennial convention in New Orleans have been disputing a lot of attention. In the first place the conviction of Bishop William M. Brown on charges of heresy was confirmed by the house of bishops and, despite his resort to the civil courts, he was deposed from the ministry. Then the house of deputies voted to exclude the work of the marriage service and the proposal went to the bishops for acceptance or rejection. Next, the church abandoned its practice of filling the place of presiding bishop in accordance with seniority of consecration and resorted for the first time to election. Bishop Brent of western New York and Bishop Gailor of Tennessee were the leading candidates but neither could command a majority. Finally as a compromise Rt. Rev. John Murray, bishop of Maryland, was elected. He is sixty-eight years old and is classed as a conservative.

OF MANY witnesses heard by the aircraft board last week, the most interesting was Rear Admiral William S. Sims, retired. As has always been his habit, he stated his opinion in a memorandum. The board's report, however, is a compromise between the Navy department and its administration at present and in the future. This is described as "a compromise, unscientific and unimpartial" and he respectfully but unmistakably let the board know that his opinion of Secretary Wilbur was nothing for that matter. He pointed out "The department's conservatism in the matter of new weapons, marksmanship and other advances he described as abominable. He urged the necessity of a definite aircraft policy, asserting that the Navy department has not and never has had such a policy. He praised Colonel Mitchell but disapproved of his proposal for a separate air force. Four generals of the army, Sumnerall, Ely, Drumm and Parker, also disagreed with the Mitchell plan, and Ely said officers who were asking it were not playing the game because they were not supporting the other arms of the service in time of peace and lacked loyalty and discipline. All agreed that the air force is and will be the decisive element in warfare.

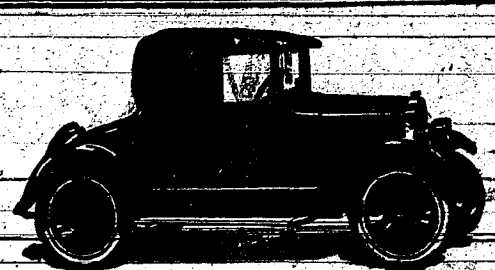

AMERICAN graduates to re-enroll in the west coast of Africa, and at the same time is to undertake to smash the British and Dutch control of the world's rubber production. Harvey S. Firestone's rubber company is pressing that plan all this and he announced that it will expend $100,000,000 in Liberia, setting out great plantations, building towns, harbors, railways and highways, and giving employment to some 300,000 natives. A concession has been obtained from the Liberian government, contracts have been let and work already has begun.

RENEWED attempts of communists to commit the American Federation of Labor to recognition of Soviet Russia and its cooperation with the Russian trade unions were frustrated by the vote of the convention in Atlantic City. The delegates also rejected a resolution attacking training camps instead of declaring their approval of national defense and denouncing communist pacifists. Other actions of the federation were condemnation of ship subsidies in all forms of the proposal for a uniform industrial court law, of "speaking practices" in government departments, and of Public Printer George Carter for alleged discrimination against union employees. President William Green and all other officers of the federation were re-elected.

ON THURSDAY the new prohibition enforcement machinery devised by Assistant Secretary Andrews of the Treasury department went into full operation, and as a starter in the way of economy two thousand prohibition agents and employees of the service were severed from their jobs. Some of these will be reappointed. Mr. Andrews has announced that the administrators would be held responsible for the conduct of their forces, and that they would be given a free hand in naming their subordinates in order that the latter could, in turn be held responsible to them.

with the Corn Exchange bank here for loans of $271,000.

Perelstous told me how the deal had been put through in the Corn Exchange bank with the securities, testified Brandenburg. "He told me that he had been taken from place to place until finally he found himself in a room—he didn't know the location—where there were a large number of Russians whom he did not know. He said there were diamonds, rubies, and gems of all kinds, and securities piled high on large tables."

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS!

SKETCHES OF EARLY MICHIGAN HISTORY.

Mr. William L. Jenks of Port Huron, writes in the October number of the Michigan History magazine about Judge Woodward, after whom Woodward avenue in Detroit is named. He says of him:

"Judge Woodward was in many ways a very unusual man, of much more than ordinary intellectual power, of wide knowledge, of scientific curiosity, really learned in the law and in general applying it with reason and logic."

"He had studied Spanish before coming to Detroit and after his arrival there became proficient in French and was always regarded with special friendliness by the French citizens of the community."

"Coming from Washington and his associations with educated and cultivated society, he no doubt felt the lack of it in his surroundings at Detroit, and by, in a measure, isolating himself for the purpose of pursuing his studies and reflection, he created an impression, perhaps justly, that he felt an intellectual superiority."

"He pursued his own course with complete indifference to its effect upon his personal popularity. 'On people of education in general he impressed as of high ability. He was on friendly terms with people of the highest standing and made warm friends of ordinary people. He also aroused bitter antagonism and doubtless was frequently overbearing in his manner. He was not a nature to bear fools gladly and in consequence his enemies at Detroit exerted every possible influence, and with success, to prevent his reappointment as judge in 1824. Many satiric remarks were circulated, and as he paid no attention to them, they came to be generally believed; but they were mainly, and in all really important parts, without foundation. To the ordinary citizen of Detroit, ignorant or unappreciative of his intellectual life and philosophic speculations, he no doubt frequently appeared a visionary, ill balanced eccentric. His act creating the University of Michigan proves him a visionary, but with a noble and lofty, if premature, ideal of great value to humanity. He is the most interesting character in the early history of our territory."

Oil Stains on Concrete

The bureau of standards says that it knows of no method that will entirely remove oil stains from concrete. The stains can be partly removed by soaking the concrete with gasoline, then taking up the excess by means of a porous material like blotting paper. By repeating this process several times at intervals a good portion of the oil can be removed.
